

RSB Gender Equality Policy Statement

Rwanda Standards Board (RSB) is committed to provide inclusive standardization, metrology and conformity assessment services for sustainable socio-economic development.

By establishing this gender equality policy statement, RSB pledges to continue engagement by promoting, implementing, and accounting for gender equality in all aspects of its processes and operations. This will be achieved through offering equal opportunities and gender-responsive services for women and men in standardization, metrology, and conformity assessment services, demonstrating compliance with statutory and regulatory requirements, adhering to regional and international agreements, and practices related to gender equality.

RSB will continually improve the effectiveness of organizational activities and processes by leveraging existing opportunities and implementing any necessary action to meet requirements in line with the established institutional gender equality objectives.
